Announcing All 141 Exhibiting Galleries and Artist Highlights! Art Fair Tokyo 2021 Embarks on Unprecedented Fusion of In-Person and Virtual Reality Exhibits

Pre-Register and Receive Discounts on Admission to 11 Museums in Kanto Area!

In 2020, the coronavirus pandemic dealt the world economy a massive blow. Its impact was also felt by the art market, with around 90 percent of galleries globally not operating for the first half of the year. Sales declined by 30–40 percent compared to the previous year. On the other hand, advances were made with the digitalization of art sales transactions, leading to recovery during the second half of 2020. Auction sales are healthy and the contemporary art market is predicted to remain strong.

The global art fairs usually held in the first quarter have announced postponements for after May. Art Fair Tokyo 2021 will lead the way by taking place from March 19 to March 21 this year. Drawing on the expertise and approaches successfully employed at artTNZ and artKYOTO 2020 last year, the fair will incorporate new technology to ensure safety for visitors during the ongoing coronavirus pandemic and allow people to participate online by viewing the venue exhibits on the VR Art Scope platform.

The 2021 fair includes booth exhibits on an unprecedented scale, such as a 160-square-meter presentation from Kyoto-based YUMEKOUBOU of the work of Tanabe Chiku'unsai IV, who made a striking impression with a giant bamboo installation at artKYOTO 2020. The 75-square-meter booths include four highly distinctive and memorable galleries: MAKI Gallery, showcasing young overseas artists; KOTARO NUKAGA, with the work of Tomokazu Matsuyama, known for his public art at Shinjuku Station and exhibitions abroad; Takeda Art Co., which represents numerous famous artists; and √K Contemporary, making its debut at the fair with an exhibition of the Mono-ha pioneer Noriyuki Haraguchi, who passed away last year.

More exciting and packed than ever before, Art Fair Tokyo 2021 will feature a total 141 gallery and art organization exhibitors: 115 in the main Galleries section in Hall E on the second basement floor of Tokyo International Forum, and 12 in the Crossing section and 14 in the Projects section, both at the Lobby Gallery on the first basement floor.

VR Art Scope

Visitors can experience the fair virtually through a specially created online version of the fair that is a fully scanned replica of the actual venue. With restrictions on admissions in place to ensure safety, the fair offers an array of options for different kinds of visitors, from those who prefer not to attend in person to those who wish to view the exhibits again at their leisure after an initial visit. With the aid of digital technology, the fair facilitates improved and intuitive communication between galleries and visitors, both in-person and online, allows people to easily conduct research on the layout and exhibits prior to arrival, or to review what they saw, and also improves documentation of the fair.
